

TEN MILLIONS LOST.

The Sum That Will be Taken From Producers' Pockets and Put in Standard Coffers

IN A YEAR AT PRESENT PRICES.

A Well-Known Oil Man Disputes Mr. Seep and Makes Interesting Arithmetical Calculations

BASED ON MOST RELIABLE FIGURES.

Kentucky Has a Primitive Oil Town—News From Other Fields.

THE DISPATCH representative yesterday had an interesting talk with David Kirk, a well-known producer, on the recent action of the Standard in reducing premiums.

Mr. Kirk replied: "Yes, I have read them, and I regard them as false, absurd and an insult to intelligent producers. Allow me to give you a few figures to prove this. The stocks in crude oil in pipe lines (which is one reliable supply) on the last day of November were 11,113,699.

The present prices are 82, 94 and 97 cents respectively, showing a decrease in price of over 26 per cent. The average price of refined oil in New York in November, 1889, was 7.46 per gallon, the present price, 7.40; decrease, .068 of 1 per cent.

"Thus, while the world is clamoring for oil in eight months 1,528,946 barrels more than we have been able to produce, and is now virtually paying the same price for it. The Standard is paying the producer over 26 per cent less for it.

"Taking Mr. Seep's figures for the production to be correct, viz., 63,000 barrels premium oil and 21,000 barrels Northern oil daily, this oil would amount to $10,315 per day or $3,150,450 per month; at present prices $7,385 per day or $2,221,350 per month; net monthly amount taken from the producers, $297,100, and not given to the consumer—or at the rate of over $10,000,000 per annum.

"This is a pure steal, and the Standard has been able to accomplish it by the purchase of rival lines. This sum of $10,000,000 will, I believe, build a plant that will do the work of the Standard's $30,000,000 watered plant, and make producers independent and still not increase the cost to the consumer.

"I have not the data and am therefore not prepared to estimate the additional loss to producers from the reduced value of their property, but it can be readily seen that the loss on a plant having a capacity of 100,000 barrels reduced $10,000,000 per annum must be enormous. The primary object of the Standard in the present raid must be to buy the production at the reduced valuation and thus obtain the control of the oil business. The figures as given are from Stoeckl's Petroleum Reporter, the standard authority."

The Kentucky Oil Region. A prominent Pittsburg producer has just returned from Louisville, where he has been attending to important oil business for the past two weeks.

They have a pipe line, five miles in length, which connects with the field, and their refinery at Glasgow, which has a still capacity of 100 barrels a day. The oil is found at a depth of 129 to 300 feet, and the Pittsburg describes the field and refining plant at this place as a miniature of the industry in Pennsylvania.

AN UNLUCKY VOYAGE

Twelve of the Crew of Three-Masted American Ship Challenger

SWEPT OVERBOARD BY A TORNADO

Many Others Disabled, Leaving Only Four to Handle the Vessel.

A TUG NOW SEARCHING FOR THE SHIP

NEW YORK, September 15.—Captain Collier, of the steamship Normandie, which landed her passengers to-day, reports that yesterday, at about 2:30 P. M., when 250 miles east of Sandy Hook, the twelve of the crew of the three-masted American ship Challenger, bound from West Hartlepool to this port, disappeared in a terrific storm.

The Captain of the Normandie, despite a terrific gale that was still blowing, sent a boat and crew to the assistance of the Challenger. Their frail craft was tossed up and down like a cockle-shell in the trough of the sea, and the return journey was equally dangerous.

A HORRIFYING REPORT. Their report was horrifying. They said Captain Thompson, of the Challenger, had reported that during a terrific hurricane on September 12 of his men had been washed overboard and that the majority of the remainder were too ill to work the ship.

In addition to the 12 men killed 4 of the crew had their arms and legs broken, leaving only four men to work the ship. The Challenger was in a terribly crippled and disarranged condition. Her mizen mast, fore and main top and top galley mast, bowsprit, head gear and leading rigging were gone, and she was making about three knots per hour under her foresail and high reefed mainail.

Officer Marshall offered medical assistance and a bottle of the Challenger's medicine, but the Challenger declined, saying all that he wanted was for the Normandie to take a letter to the ship's owners and mail the same upon their arrival in this city.

DECLINED ASSISTANCE. Speaking of the affair this morning, third Officer Marshall, of the Normandie, said: "The vessel was in horrible shape, and her dismantled condition attracted my attention, being on the bridge at the time. When I went to her in the relief boat the captain, after telling me his mishap declined all aid. I offered him every assistance, even to tow him into port, but he declined."

The Challenger was a first-class American three-masted, 100,000-hurton, and owned by Arthur Sewell & Co., of Bath, Me. She had taken a cargo of general merchandise from Portland, Ore., to West Hartlepool, England, and was on her way home to Baltimore to receive a cargo here for Portland, Ore. The Challenger carried about 22 men, crew, officers and cooks. She is valued at $65,000 and a tug will go out and look for her to-day. She was sighted about 2:30 P. M. and was believed to be in the vicinity of this port.

A BLACKSMITH'S STORY.

He Relates His Experience and Tells What He Knows of a Subject in Which Many Are Interested.

"I am a blacksmith and my trouble began by working in a draft," said Mr. E. H. Price, a well-known resident of Lawrenceville, who lives on Forty-six-and-a-half street, and is in the employ of the Sheffer Bridge Company.

"I caught a severe cold and from that time my catarrhal symptoms manifested themselves. My head and nose would be so filled with mucus that I was compelled to breathe through my mouth and my nose would often stop. I had a high fever, my eyes, dizziness and noises in my ears. The mucus that dropped into my throat caused me to be almost continually spitting. The disease finally reached by lungs, I felt a weight in my chest as if my lungs were stopped up. My breath became short and finally a violent cough set in, which increased until I could hardly breathe. I had great difficulty in getting any food down, and my stomach, and I had a tired feeling all over me on getting up in the morning.

"I read in the papers statements from patients who had been cured by their treatment, and I was induced to try it. I bought a box of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute and became completely cured. It is now some time since I took my medicine and my cure has remained permanent. I shall be glad to furnish a list of names of my friends who suffer as I have done. E. H. PRICE."

Please remember that the physicians of the Catarrh and Dyspepsia Institute are the only specialists in Pittsburg for the exclusive treatment of catarrh and dyspepsia, and are therefore the only specialists for these diseases in the true sense of the term.

While they charge a reasonable price for their treatment, they refuse no one treatment or medicine because he is poor. Do not mistake them, however, for cheap so-called specialists, who with a few local treatments and snuff medicines would lead you to believe you are cured.
